'I wish I could live in the hilarious, delightful, and very queer world of these Fables.'
Alison Bechdel (Dykes to Watch Out For, Fun Home, Are You My Mother?)

Is your phone smarter than you are?
Why does the weather map turn purple,
and how do you protect your tomatoes when it does?
And just what do you do with a lesbian grandmother?

Fables Queer and Familiar is a wry, affectionate story of two lesbian grannies, their friends, family and community. Any ageing activist will recognise the combination of good intentions and aching joints. And anyone young will recognise how mystifying the adult world can be.

Fables Queer and Familiar, which started life as the online serial Adelaide Days, is also broadcast by Radio Adelaide.
